Uncool Gallery

Across the Americas brings together ten works by Dante Migone-Ojeda, Nelmir Guzman, Angie Rangel, Hannah Banciella, and Marco Caridad. The exhibition considers how cultural memory travels across generations and geography, taking new form through contemporary artistic practice.

Angie Rangel's Taxonomy of Memory series develops from garments associated with childhood and family memory. Taxonomy of Memory: Soft Gradients and Near Abstraction from the "Taxonomy of Memory" Series transform these sources through drawing, allowing domestic objects to become carriers of cultural experience.

Uncool Gallery, Across the Americas, Artsy, 2026.

Five artists. Ten works.
